VICTORY CONDITIONS

The British win if at scenario end they have amassed more VP than the Germans. Casualty VPs are amassed normally: in addition, each stone building is worth 4 VP for the controlling side.

SPECIAL SCENARIO RULES

- Spotting conditions are average. No units may cross the canal unless on a bridge, the only bridge is at 23P7.
- All buildings have ground level locations only and are +10 LOS obstacles. The valley on board 24 does not exist, treat all level -10 hexes as level +0, with other terrain therein existing normally.
- The British have an offboard FO that can access an 80mm battery of OBA. The FO is at a +30 level hex along the players south edge west of the canal. The exact edge hex is secretly chosen and recorded by the British player prior to setup.
- The German may use hidden setup for 1 squad and any leader, L or M weapon that setup with the squad.
- In addition to normal restrictions weapon pits may not be setup on paved road hexes.
- The British have one Elite Tank Commander with the 8th Hussar units.
- The required AFV markers and Data Cards are available at the ATS on The Table Website.
